

Dr. Galina V. Pustovoit.

V. S. Pustovoit Award Winner 1980. U.S.S.R.

Galina Pustovoit has continued the exemplary work of her father, after whom the highest award of the International Sunflower Association is named.

She has never wearied in her efforts to incorporate multiple resistance to various diseases from wild species, particularly from Helianthus tuberosus, into the cultivated sunflower. She has also continued improving her father's established varieties from year to year and has participated in the important work on hybrid sunflowers.
